

COCA-COLA APPLICANT PRIVACY NOTICE

Your privacy is important to The Coca-Cola Company, its affiliates, and its subsidiaries (collectively, Coca-Cola or we). Coca-Cola is committed to handling personal information responsibly and in accordance with applicable laws, in each country where we use your personal information. This Coca-Cola Applicant Privacy Notice (Privacy Notice) explains the types of personal information Coca-Cola collects about you when you explore our employment opportunities or apply for employment with us, how Coca-Cola uses this personal information and your rights to your personal information.

Coca-Cola's handling of personal information is guided by these principles:

- ❖ Transparency
- ❖ Respect
- ❖ Lawfulness
- ❖ Fairness
- ❖ Accountability
- ❖ Accuracy
- ❖ Limited in Time and Purpose
- ❖ Integrity and Confidentiality

When we refer to personal information in this Privacy Notice, we mean information that identifies or can be used to identify an individual person. This means that personal information includes direct identifiers (such as name) and indirect identifiers (such as your device ID). This definition may be amended/complemented by any applicable local data privacy laws.

When we refer to you, we mean external applicants for job opportunities at Coca-Cola who are not Coca-Cola employees. For the avoidance of doubt, this Privacy Notice does not apply to Coca-Cola employees seeking roles internally. Such applicants are instead subject to the Coca-Cola Employee Privacy Notice.

Coca-Cola is a large organization made up of different entities around the world. The Coca-Cola entity that is responsible for your personal information covered by this Privacy Notice – sometimes known as the data controller or controller – depends on where you reside and the employment opportunities that interest you. [The controller for each country is listed in Appendix 1.]

Coca-Cola's processing of personal information is always subject to the requirements of applicable law, our written policies and procedures and, where applicable, any consultation requirements with worker representatives. If this Privacy Notice conflicts with local law in your jurisdiction, the local law prevails. For more information about legal rights and requirements in specific jurisdictions, please see Section 8.

Nothing in this Privacy Notice should be construed to interfere with Coca-Cola's ability to process personal information for purposes of complying with its legal obligations or for investigating alleged misconduct or violations of Coca-Cola's policies or law. This Privacy Notice is not intended to create any express or implied promise or contract for employment or for any benefit or treatment in specific situations.

EFFECTIVE DATE: 2023

1. WHEN DOES THIS PRIVACY NOTICE APPLY?

This Privacy Notice applies to Coca-Cola's handling of personal information collected from or about you in connection with employment opportunities ("Opportunities"), whether you engage with Coca-Cola online or offline.

This Privacy Notice does not apply to:

- Personal information that Coca-Cola collects from or about consumers or business customers who use the websites, mobile applications, widgets, and other online services that Coca-Cola operates. To learn more about Coca-Cola's personal information practices that apply to those services, please visit our local, consumer-facing website or contact privacy@coca-cola.com.
- Personal information collected from or about employees. The Coca-Cola Employee Privacy Notice applies to such personal information.

Coca-Cola also has additional privacy governance requirements and policies that apply to the collection and uses of your personal information. Please contact us using the contact details set out in Section 10 if you want more information about these additional requirements and policies.

2. WHAT TYPES OF PERSONAL INFORMATION DOES COCA-COLA COLLECT, WHY DO WE COLLECT IT, AND WHAT LEGAL BASES DO WE RELY ON?

Coca-Cola collects personal information from or about you for a variety of reasons in connection with your employment opportunities. We receive this information directly from you and, where applicable, other parties (including your employment/recruitment agency). What Coca-Cola collects and why Coca-Cola collects personal information is different depending on the Opportunity, jurisdiction and the applicable law.

Generally, we collect information necessary for managing the application process and / or for any other related and legitimate business reason. Below we identify the main types of personal information we collect, why we do so, and what legal bases we rely on when processing that information. Please know, however, that some personal information is collected for more than one reason; accordingly, the reasons listed are not exclusive to one type of personal information. Additionally, the information in this section about legal bases applies only where a legal basis is required by applicable law, may be modified for specific countries as specified in Section 8, and may not apply when another legal basis is specified at the time of collection.

The legal bases for Coca-Cola's processing of personal information depend on the context in which the personal information is collected and processed. Generally, Coca-Cola only collects personal information from or about applicants when:

- needed to take steps to enter into an employment contract with you;
- we have your explicit consent to do so; or
- the processing is in our legitimate business interests and not overridden by your privacy or other fundamental rights and freedoms, which are:
  - To authorize your account on our websites through you apply for an Opportunity ("Candidate Account")
  - To send information that you request associated with Opportunities
  - To respond to your inquiries
  - To create and maintain your identification required for access to our facilities if you schedule an in-person meeting
  - To provide access to platforms we use for virtual interviews
  - For maintaining our database of candidates to match with Opportunities as they arise and consider you for roles
  - To schedule virtual or in-person interviews
  - To support your business travel arrangements (e.g., for bookings) if applicable for an in-person meeting
  - To arrange and administer assessment testing
  - To obtain your feedback on the recruiting and interview process
  - To protect against accidental or other unauthorized disclosure of information that you share with us and to protect your Candidate Account and the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems
  - To safeguard our assets from unauthorized access and use
  - To administer surveys in which you choose to participate
  - To understand and document why you did, or did not, choose to complete an application
  - To administer our diversity, equity and inclusion program and Coca-Cola's Ethics & Compliance
  - For research and innovation in our recruitment practices
  - For general reporting of recruitment activities

If we process personal information based on consent, you can withdraw or amend your consent at any time as permitted by applicable law. In some cases, our legal basis is fulfillment of a legal obligation to collect personal information which may mean we are unable to stop processing the personal information. If you have questions about or need further information concerning any legal basis on which Coca-Cola processes personal information, please contact privacy@coca-cola.com or contact the data controller listed in Appendix 1.

Depending on where you live and apply to work, we may collect some or all of the following types of personal information based on the noted legal basis:

We also collect and use personal information when we have a legal obligation or right to do so. This includes:

- For consultation with worker representatives (where appropriate)
- To address legal claims or disputes
- To comply with government reporting obligations including taxation and accounting requirements
- To monitor and ensure diversity and equality of treatment and opportunity
- To provide accommodations or adjustments in connection with your Candidate Account, interviews or otherwise as part of the employment application process
- To safeguard property and assets by:
  - Reporting to regulators and public authorities where required
  - Monitoring compliance
  - Complying with equal opportunity, anti-money laundering, anti-corruption, and other laws
  - Protecting intellectual property and trade and business secrets
- To protect the security of Coca-Cola facilities and the individuals in them, such as through use of identity access management for secure areas (where permitted by law)
- To investigate an incident involving others and for grievance management
- To administer Coca-Cola's Ethics & Compliance tools & reporting
- To comply with other laws applicable to Coca-Cola, such as equal opportunity and public accounting laws

Some of the collected personal information is treated as sensitive personal information under applicable law, which may include details such as racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, genetic data, biometric data, health, sex life, and sexual orientation, among other types of information. We comply with special legal protections that apply to sensitive personal information. When legally required, we will ask for your consent to process sensitive personal information and you may decide whether or not to give consent.

If you schedule an in-person interview, please note that Coca-Cola monitors facilities through closed-circuit television and other video monitoring for security purposes. These tools are primarily used at entrance and exit points, elevators, lobbies, around valuable equipment, and in other high-risk areas for theft or with highly sensitive assets. We do not use video monitoring in private areas, such as restrooms or in your interview room. Where required by applicable law, we will include the corresponding notices in the places that video monitoring takes place.

Cookies

Coca-Cola also uses cookies and other data collection technology to recognize you and/or your device(s) when you access Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems. When accessing those systems, the applicant must accept the use of necessary cookies.

What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are sent to or accessed from your web browser or your computer's hard drive. A cookie typically contains the name of the domain (internet location) from which the cookie originated, the "lifetime" of the cookie (i.e., when it expires) and a randomly generated unique number or similar identifier. A cookie also may contain information about your computer or device, such as settings, browsing history and activities conducted while using the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems.

Coca-Cola also uses "pixels" (sometimes called web beacons). Pixels are transparent images that can collect information about email opens and website usage across websites and over time.

Cookies that Coca-Cola sets in the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems are called first-party cookies. Cookies set in the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems by any other party are called third-party cookies. Third-party cookies enable third-party features or functionality on or through the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems. The parties that set third-party cookies can recognize your device both when you use it to access the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems and also when you use it to visit certain other websites.

To learn more about cookies generally, visit www.allaboutcookies.org.

Why does Coca-Cola use cookies and other tracking technology?

Some cookies are required for the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems to operate. Other cookies enable us to enhance your experience of the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems.

The types of cookies served on through the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems and why they are used is as follows:

- Strictly necessary cookies are required for the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems to operate.
- Performance or Analytics cookies collect information about how the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems are used so we can analyze and improve the Coca-Cola

Employment Application Systems. Performance or analytics cookies typically remain on your computer after you close your browser until you delete them.

Data collection technology enables Coca-Cola to monitor the traffic patterns from one webpage to another and to improve performance of the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems.

Your Cookie Choices

You have the right to decide whether to accept or reject cookies. You can set your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is set. (Most browsers accept cookies automatically but allow you to disable them. If you disable them, some features of the Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems may not work properly.)

Certain jurisdictions also have cookie policies separate from this Privacy Notice and additional cookie management tools. Please contact us using the contact details set out in Section 10 for more information.

3. DOES COCA-COLA USE AUTOMATED PROCESSING?

Where permitted by law, Coca-Cola may use automated decision-making and similar tools for automated processing of personal information of applicants in certain jurisdictions (collectively, "automated processing"). We provide notice and/or obtain consent for automated processing as required.

In certain jurisdictions, we may use automated processing in the following situations:

- To analyze certain personal information and professional details collected from or about applicants to better identify individuals with particular skills for particular roles
- To promote diversity, equity and inclusion
- To monitor use of Candidate Accounts and other Coca-Cola Employment Application Systems
- To comply with legal obligations and defend legal rights
- To prevent, investigate and/or detect unauthorized or illegal activity

Coca-Cola works to provide meaningful information about the logic involved in automated processing to help ensure that consent to automated processing is specific, informed and voluntary and to ensure that applicants are not adversely affected by a decision to withhold or revoke consent to automated processing.

4. HOW DOES COCA-COLA SHARE PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Coca-Cola shares personal information with people and businesses that help us operate and carry our business functions and when legally permitted or required to do so. Specifically, Coca-Cola may share applicants' or prospective applicants' personal information with one or more of the following categories of recipients:

- Coca-Cola Affiliates subject to data sharing agreements that are designed to protect personal information in accordance with this Privacy Notice and applicable law
- Professional advisors, such as lawyers, accountants, and insurers
- Service providers to enable them to perform services on our behalf, including recruiting services, cloud storage, data analytics, benefit and compensation analyses, business travel partners, IT support, data security and forensics, surveys and research services and other service providers that help us carry out our business. Service providers are contractually required to protect the personal information that Coca-Cola entrusts to them

- Potential or actual acquirers or investors and their professional advisers in connection with any actual or proposed merger, acquisition or investment in all or any part of our business. We will use our best efforts to ensure that the terms of this Privacy Notice apply to personal information after the transaction or that you receive advance notice of changes to personal information processing
- Competent law enforcement, government regulators and courts when we believe disclosure is necessary (i) to comply with the law, (ii) to exercise, establish or defend legal rights, or (iii) to protect the vital interests of applicants, business partners, service providers or another third party
- Other third parties with your permission

When Coca-Cola shares personal information, we require whenever possible that the recipients handle personal information in compliance with our confidentiality and security requirements and applicable law.

If legal requirements limit the sharing of your personal information, Coca-Cola will respect those requirements.

5. HOW DOES COCA-COLA PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Coca-Cola is committed to protecting the security of personal information. Coca-Cola uses various security detection, management and protection tools to help protect personal information from unauthorized access, disclosure or other use.

6. HOW LONG DOES COCA-COLA RETAIN PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Personal information is retained in accordance with the applicable law and/or the company records retention policies/procedures. In general, Coca-Cola retains personal information during the application process and thereafter (for both successful and unsuccessful candidates) for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes for which the personal information was collected or until you withdraw your consent if applicable or to comply with legal obligations, including to support and evidence our recruitment process in defense of legal claims.

7. DOES COCA-COLA TRANSFER PERSONAL INFORMATION TO OTHER COUNTRIES?

Coca-Cola may transfer personal information across borders to any of the places where we and our affiliates and suppliers do business. Other jurisdictions may have data protection laws that are different from (and, in some cases, less protective) than the laws where you reside.

If your personal information is transferred across borders by us or on our behalf, we use appropriate safeguards to protect your personal information in accordance with this Privacy Notice. These safeguards include agreeing to standard contractual clauses or model contracts for transfers of personal information among the Coca-Cola affiliates and among our suppliers. When in place, these contracts require our affiliates and suppliers to protect personal information in accordance with applicable privacy laws.

To request information about our standard contractual clauses or model contracts and other safeguards for cross-border personal information transfers, please contact our Privacy Office at privacy@coca-cola.com.

8. DO SPECIFIC PROVISIONS APPLY DEPENDING ON PLACE OF PERSONAL RESIDENCE?

Depending on where you live and work, and subject to applicable laws, you may have certain legal rights, such as:

- Right to Access - to find out whether Coca-Cola processes your personal information
- Right to Correct - to request that Coca-Cola corrects or updates inaccurate, incomplete or outdated personal information
- Right to Object – to request that Coca-Cola stops or to prevent Coca-Cola from processing your personal data
- Right to Erasure - to request that Coca-Cola deletes or erases your personal information
- Right to Restrict Processing - to request that Coca-Cola restricts use of your personal information
- Right to Withdraw Consent - to withdraw your consent
- Right to Data Portability - to request that Coca-Cola provide you with a copy of your personal information in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format
- Right to request more information about our automated processing

Except as provided below in the relevant country-specific section, you can exercise data rights available to you by contacting emailing us using the contact information below:

- hrhelp@coca-cola.com

The below sets out your specific rights and additional privacy details where you reside in one or more of the following countries:

Residents of Argentina

We do not collect or process any Background Screening data in Argentina.

The Agency of Access to Public Information, in its role of Regulating Body of Law 25.326, is responsible for receiving complaints and reports from residents of Argentina who believe that their privacy rights were violated.

The owner of the personal information has the right to exercise the right of access at intervals of not less than six months, unless a legitimate interest is demonstrated for this purpose in accordance with article 14, paragraph 3 of Law No. 25,326.

Interested parties may exercise their right of access, rectification or deletion by submitting a request to: Servicios y Productos para Bebidas Refrescantes SRL – Vedia 4090 – C.A.B.A. – Argentina- Attn: Responsable de Bases de Datos.

Natural persons must attach a copy of their National Identity Document and Legal Representatives must attach the documentation that proves the validity of the legal representation. Each request must explain the reason for the request. Coca-Cola will respond to an access request within ten (10) calendar days and for requests to rectify, update or delete personal information, Coca-Cola will respond within five (5) business days.

Residents of Bolivia

Our collection of your personal information requires your express consent.

For the purposes of exercising your rights or compliance with any obligation established in the data protection regulation, the data controller of your information would be the Coca-Cola entity to which you apply for a job opportunity.

Residents of Brazil

In Brazil, Coca-Cola's handling of personal information will also be guided by the following principles

- ❖ Adequacy
- ❖ Necessity
- ❖ Access
- ❖ Quality
- ❖ Security
- ❖ Prevention
- ❖ Non-Discrimination
- ❖ Responsibility
- ❖ Legality

Coca-Cola Brazil will also collect the following Identification information: Labor ID and Tax ID. All Identification information collected by Coca-Cola will be processed in order to comply with the labor, tax, social security, and any other legal requirements established by applicable laws.

We do not collect or process any Background Screening data related to credit, criminal history, drug tests and/or medical physicals in Brazil.

All sensitive personal information collected will be processed only to comply with legal or regulatory obligations (including Lei Geral de Proteção de Dados – LGPD (Law nº 13.709/2018)) or based on specific consent given by you.

All consent will be collected prior to any activity that process personal information.

The personal information collected by Coca-Cola and shared with third parties will only be used for the purposes established in this Privacy Notice.

At any time, you can withdraw your consent for us processing your personal information and sensitive data by contacting us at the email address or physical address below. Please consider that if you withdraw your consent, you may not be able to apply to any open position on The Coca-Cola Company website, and we may be unable to continue evaluating your existing applications.

We will not delete any data that is required by law to fulfill our legal or regulatory obligations or if the data is necessary to exercise our legal rights.

In addition to the rights described at the beginning of this Section 8, you have the following right:

- Right to Confirm – confirm your personal information is processed by the Company

You can exercise your privacy rights by:

- E-mail: encarregado.lgpd@coca-cola.com
- Mail: Praia de Botafogo, 374, Botafogo, Rio de Janeiro/RJ, ZIP Code: 22.250-907, attn: Larissa Lourenço

For the purposes of exercising your rights or compliance with any obligation established in the data protection regulation, the data controller of your information would be the Coca-Cola entity to which you apply for a job opportunity.

Residents of California

The following section applies to California residents and relates to personal information collected in the context of your application for employment with us.

Collection

A description of the personal information we collected in the last 12 months about job applicants and our reasons for doing so, is provided in Section 2.

We collect this information directly from you during recruitment or from service providers or third parties that assist us with our recruiting activities.

Sensitive Personal Information

Certain data elements we collect are deemed "sensitive" under California law. Those are race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, and government identification numbers (e.g., Social Security and driver's license numbers). To the extent you provide us such information, it is used solely for purposes consistent with California privacy law.

Selling and Sharing Data

We do not sell applicant personal information or provide it to third parties for cross-context behavioral advertising (a concept known as "sharing" under California law). In certain circumstances, we use cookies for analytics purposes. If this usage constitutes a sale, we will provide you the opportunity to opt-out of the use of such cookies.

Individuals Rights

California law provides you with certain rights regarding your personal information, including:

- Right to Know: You can ask that we disclose to you the categories of personal information we collected about you, the categories of sources for the personal information we collected about you, our purpose for collecting your personal information, and the categories of third parties to whom we disclosed your personal information. You can also request that we provide you the specific pieces of personal information we collected about you.
- Right to Delete: You can ask us to delete the personal information that we have collected from you.

- Right to Correct: You can ask us to correct inaccurate personal information we maintain about you.

You can submit a request by contacting us at talentnortamerica@coca-cola.com. Subject to some exceptions, we will honor verified requests. To verify a request, we may ask you to provide us information that we can match with other information we have about you. You can also have an authorized agent submit a request on your behalf, but we will require proof of authorization from the agent and you must verify your identity with us and confirm you gave the agent permission to submit the request.

Residents of Canada

If you live in Alberta, British Columbia, or Quebec, you have certain rights in respect of your information. To access or correct your personal information, please contact talentnortamerica@coca-cola.com. Please note we may verify your identity before we can act on your request.

If you have questions about the collection of your personal information, you can contact Larissa Barbara Lourenco by email at privacy@coca-cola.com.

Residents of China

Personal Information and Sensitive Personal Information

Personal information refers to various types of electronic or otherwise recorded information related to identified or identifiable natural persons, excluding anonymized information.

In China, we do not collect or process the “sensitive personal information” as specified in section 2 “WHAT TYPES OF PERSONAL INFORMATION DOES COCA-COLA COLLECT, WHY DO WE COLLECT IT, AND WHAT LEGAL BASES DO WE RELY ON?” of the Applicant Privacy Notice, e.g. racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, trade union membership, genetic data, biometric data, health, sex life and sexual orientation. However, we may collect your personal identity information (including your ID card and passport) for identity verification purposes and financial information (including bank account information) for reimbursement purposes. Such information may be identified as sensitive personal information under applicable laws and regulations in China. We restrict our process to the purposes described above and will take strict protection measures.

If you provide us with personal information of others, please make sure that the relevant individuals have consented to the processing of their personal information as described in this Applicant Privacy Notice.

How Does Coca-Cola Share Personal Information?

Coca-Cola will share your personal information to third parties in accordance with section 4 “HOW DOES COCA-COLA SHARE PERSONAL INFORMATION?” of the Applicant Privacy Notice.

If it is necessary for Coca-Cola to transfer personal information in case of a merger, division, dissolution, declaration of bankruptcy, or other reasons, we will notify you of the name and contact information of the recipient. The recipient must comply with the Applicant Privacy Notice when processing your personal information.

Does Coca-Cola Transfer Personal Information To Other Countries?

Coca-Cola is a global company which has legal entities in several countries. Your personal information may be transferred to The Coca-Cola Company.

- Contact information: Address: 1 Coca-Cola Plaza, Atlanta, GA 30313, USA; email: privacy@coca-cola.com.
- Types of personal information transferred overseas: Please refer to Section 2 “WHAT TYPES OF PERSONAL INFORMATION DOES COCA-COLA COLLECT, WHY DO WE COLLECT IT, AND WHAT LEGAL BASES DO WE RELY ON?” of the Applicant Privacy Notice.
- Purposes of processing by the overseas recipient: Please refer to Section 2 “WHAT TYPES OF PERSONAL INFORMATION DOES COCA-COLA COLLECT, WHY DO WE COLLECT IT, AND WHAT LEGAL BASES DO WE RELY ON?” of the Applicant Privacy Notice.
- Method of processing by the overseas recipient: Collection, use, storage, deletion, provision, transmission.
- Retention period: Your personal information will only be stored overseas for as long as necessary for the relevant purposes described in the Applicant Privacy Notice and as permitted by the applicable Chinese laws.

Your personal information may be transferred to other global entities of Coca-Cola (please see Appendix 1 for a detailed list of these global entities) and third parties engaged by us who are located outside of China for the purposes described in the relevant sections of the Applicant Privacy Notice. For instance, in the process of our business operation, your personal information may be shared with our human resources service provider Workday. Processing methods may include collection, use, storage, deletion, provision, and transmission.

We will use a lawful transfer mechanism to transfer your personal information outside of China. We also adopt necessary measures to ensure the overseas recipient listed above can provide the same level of protection as specified in the Section 5 of this Applicant Privacy Notice “HOW DOES COCA-COLA PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION?” and as required under applicable Chinese laws.

If you want to exercise your rights against the overseas recipient, please contact privacy@coca-cola.com.

Residents of Chile

Applicants from Chile or to whom the Chilean data protection law applies have the following rights:

- To request information on the processing of their personal information;
- To request that incorrect, inaccurate or incomplete information be modified;
- To request that their personal information be deleted if they are stored without a legal basis or if they are out of date notwithstanding legal exceptions;
- To request the deletion or blocking of their personal information, if applicable, if the data have been provided voluntarily or if they are used for commercial communications and the user no longer wishes to be included in the relevant register, either permanently or temporarily;
- To oppose the use of their personal information for advertising, market research or opinion polling purposes; and
- To revoke their consent to the processing of personal information at any time with effect for the future. If you revoke consent, we may be unable to continue evaluating your application.

We do not collect or process any Background Screening data in Chile.

For the purposes of exercising your rights or compliance with any obligation established in the data protection regulation, the data controller of your information would be the Coca-Cola entity to which you apply for a job opportunity.

Residents of Colombia

The controller of your personal information is:

Coca-Cola Bebidas de Colombia S.A.

Post: Attn: Privacy Officer

Av. Carrera 45 N 103-60 Piso 8, Bogotá D.C.

In order to process your personal data, the data controller for Colombia will always obtain consent as required by applicable law.

Together with the rights mentioned above in this section, the data subject shall have the rights established in Article 8 of Law 1581 of 2012. Any exercise of the rights must be done to the addresses included in this section for Colombia, and must comply with the requirements established in Law 1581 of 2012 and its regulatory decrees. We will answer your queries as established in the applicable law.

The applicable Privacy Policy for Colombia can be requested at any time to the Privacy Officer of Coca-Cola Bebidas de Colombia S.A.

In the case that we collect sensitive information, note that the answer to the questions of sensitive information is optional.

In the case the changes to this Privacy Notice are considered as substantial by Colombian law, the data controller will obtain your specific consent to continue handling your personal data.

We do not collect or process any Background Screening data in Colombia.

For the purposes of exercising your rights or compliance with any obligation established in the data protection regulation, the data controller of your information would be the Coca-Cola entity to which you apply for a job opportunity.

Residents of Costa Rica

Coca-Cola Industrias LTDA (the controller of your personal information) acknowledges and agrees to comply, as applicable, with local legal provisions and requirements regarding (i) collecting personal information and obtaining the consent of data subjects, (ii) processing of sensitive personal data, (iii) protecting privacy rights, (iv) transferring personal information and (v) maintaining security measures for collected personal information.

We do not collect or process any Background Screening data in Costa Rica.

For the purposes of exercising your rights or compliance with any obligation established in the data protection regulation, the data controller of your information would be the Coca-Cola entity to which you apply for a job opportunity.

For Residents of Ecuador

In Ecuador, Coca-Cola's handling of personal information will also be guided by the following principles:

- ❖ Lawfulness
- ❖ Fairness
- ❖ Purpose Limitation
- ❖ Data Minimization
- ❖ Proportionality
- ❖ Confidentiality
- ❖ Accuracy
- ❖ Storage Limitation
- ❖ Security
- ❖ Accountability
- ❖ Favorable Applicability
- ❖ Non-Discrimination

Coca-Cola Ecuador will also collect the following Identification information: Labor ID and Tax ID. All Identification Information collected by Coca-Cola will be processed in order to comply with the labor, tax, social security, and all the legal provision by applicable laws.

We do not collect or process any Background Screening data in Ecuador.

All sensitive personal information collected will be processed only to comply with legal or regulatory obligations (including the Ecuadorian Data Protection Law (Ley Orgánica de Protección de Datos Personales - LOPDP) or based on specific consent given by you.

All consent will be collected prior to any activity that process personal information.

The personal information collected by Coca-Cola and shared with third parties will only be used for the purposes established in this Privacy Notice.

At any time, you can withdraw your consent for us processing your personal information and sensitive personal information by contacting us at the email address or physical address below. Please consider that if you withdraw your consent, you may not be able to apply to any open position on The Coca-Cola Company website, and we may be unable to continue evaluating your existing applications.

We will not delete any data that is required by law to fulfill our legal or regulatory obligations or if the data is necessary to exercise our legal rights.

In addition to the rights described at the beginning of this Section 8, you have the following rights:

- Right to Know – you can ask to receive information concerning the purposes for our processing; the period for which your personal information will be stored; the applicable data protection rights; and the contact details for the controller and data protection officer, if applicable.

- Right to Object – you can object at any time to our processing of your personal information, as long as the law allows the objection, no third party's rights are not affected, and the processing is not related to public data or ordered by law.
- Right to the Suspension of Processing – you can ask us to suspend the processing when: (i) the personal information is inaccurate; (ii) the processing is unlawful; (iii) the controller does not longer require the personal information to fulfill their purpose; or (iv) the minimum requirements for processing health data are not fulfilled.
- Right to Object an Automated Individual Decision Making (profiling) – you can ask to not be subject to a decision based solely on automated processing, including profiling, which produce direct legal effects for you.

For the purposes of exercising your rights or compliance with any obligation established in the data protection regulation, the data controller of your information would be the Coca-Cola entity to which you apply for a job opportunity.

For Residents of European Economic Area, Switzerland and United Kingdom

The data controller (i.e., the Coca-Cola entity that determines the purpose and means of processing your personal information) for your personal information is the Coca-Cola entity related to the Opportunity that interests you or that operates the website on which you created your Candidate Account.

The legal bases for our processing of your personal information depend on the context in which the personal information is collected and processed.

When Coca-Cola transfers personal information to third parties for processing in jurisdictions not deemed "adequate" by the European Commission and/ or the Government of the United Kingdom (as applicable), standard contractual clauses, the international data transfer agreement, and other appropriate safeguards are in place.

If you would like to access, correct, update, suppress, restrict, object to or delete personal information that you have previously provided to Coca-Cola as or if you would like to receive an electronic copy of your personal information for purposes of transmitting it to another company (where this right to portability is provided to you by law), please submit your request to us as follows:

- hrhelp@coca-cola.com
- Our EU Data Protection Officer is available at • dpo-europe@coca-cola.com

In your request, please make clear what personal information you would like to have changed, whether you would like to have your personal information suppressed from our database or other limitations you would like to put on our use of your personal information. For your protection, we verify your identity and geographic residency before fulfilling your request. We will comply with your request as soon as reasonably practicable and within the time periods required by applicable law.

Please note that we often need to retain certain personal information for recordkeeping purposes and/or to complete any transaction that you began prior to submitting your request (e.g., when you make a purchase or enter a promotion, you may not be able to change or delete the personal information provided until after the completion of the purchase or promotion). We also may not delete certain personal information for legal reasons.

If you work or reside in the EEA:

You have the right to lodge a complaint with the competent supervisory authority in the Member State of your habitual residence, your place of work or the location of the alleged infringement of your data protection rights if you believe that Coca-Cola's personal information processing violates the General Data Protection Regulation. The data protection regulators for the EEA jurisdictions are specified in Appendix 1.
